Welcome...

To the first Reigate & Dorking edition, reaching more than 31,000 homes in our wonderful corner of Surrey, sharing with you the very best of what is available on your doorstep.

As we move into winter, it is even more important to shop, support and buy local. From the cafés, restaurants, boutiques and everyday amenities, to the clubs and charities that bring so much to the lives of residents of all ages, we recognise that we must remain connected and engaged with our local businesses and individuals so we can all continue to thrive.

With this in mind, we encourage you to use our handy little directory as much as possible. Whether you are looking for a new kitchen, hairstyle, fitness regime or a photographer, we hope YLLBB will be an indispensable resource that can help you find exactly what you need locally. This is our fourth edition, add this to your collection as each book offers something different, with a variety of businesses who continue to appreciate our readers' support.

As 2020 draws to a close it won't be a year to forget! However we have seen commendable strength and inspiration with many new businesses born from seizing opportunities and embracing a chance for change. Lets continue to reflect positively on how we have pulled together in so many ways, despite the need for us often to stay apart. By continuing to show kindness and tremendous community spirit, we can emerge from this testing time rightly proud of how we have all been there for each other.

We are so glad that we can contribute to that sense of togetherness and are always looking to highlight the many outstanding aspects of our local area. In this edition we have aimed to provide something inspiring for every member of the family. So cosy up, with a cuppa in hand and enjoy reading about the abundance of brilliant businesses around you.

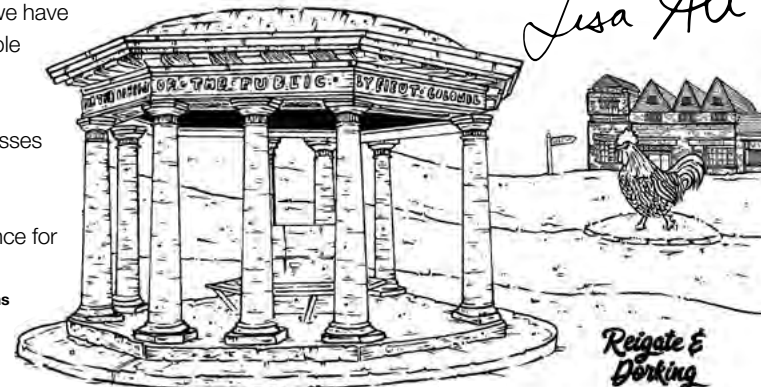

Share with us your own personal favourites so we can shine a spotlight on them too!

Sending you all warm winter wishes,

Lisa Ali

Southern Garden Buildings Ltd

CALL TODAY FOR A NO OBLIGATION QUOTE
AND RECEIVE A 5% DISCOUNT WHEN QUOTING YLLBB4

Who we are

Southern Garden Buildings Ltd are a family run business located in Reigate with over 20 years' experience in design and build. We specialise in the creation of bespoke garden buildings and spaces across Surrey and the South East of England.

What we do

At Southern Garden Buildings Ltd we recognise that one size does not fit all, and so we choose to take a collaborative design approach with our clients. So whether it's a garden office, gym, yoga studio, playroom, summer house or even a mancave, get in touch and arrange a discovery meeting whereby we will fill your minds with inspiration, create a virtual 3D design and provide you with a no obligation quote for your consideration.

Discovery

We specialise in bespoke garden buildings that are custom built to our clients requirements. The first step in engaging with Southern Garden Building is to arrange a discovery meeting whereby we will discuss your requirements in detail and agree a design approach for your new garden space.

Design

Once a design has been agreed, our talented team of designers will create a proposal / quote for you that will include virtual 3D images of the proposed build, full breakdown of costs, materials and a project timeline.

Before we start any engagement we create a "design contract" this will include a scope of works so that you know exactly what to expect during our engagement and the project.

Build

Our builders at Southern Garden Buildings have over 20 years experience and in our opinion are the best in the business. You will be provided with a project manager who will keep you informed throughout the build process from the very start all the way through to completion.

Committed to achieving fair working conditions worldwide

The Fair Wear process

Ronhill, part of the OSC Group, collectively works with 27 factories in 12 countries. Audits are carried out every three years. Ten were audited in 2019 and over 90% in the past three years. In 2016 we were awarded 'Leader' status. This has been renewed in 2020.

Leader status comes from a 75+ score from the Brand Performance Check and 90% of the factories audited. The Brand Performance Check involves an audit against 7 agreed social compliance benchmarks including 44 individual questions.

Giving workers a voice

An important aspect of the FWF is giving workers a voice. Workers who feel that their rights are being violated, or when others see this happening have an opportunity to make a complaint. That complaint will lead to an investigation and in turn will lead to the factory fixing the problem. The process involves factory management and representatives from the workplace.

We are making a difference

In general by highlighting issues we continue to focus the minds of the factory management and owners on their responsibilities. We work to ensure factory staff earn at least the minimum wage and reduce overtime requirements. General health and safety, improving equipment, training and installing air conditioning/ventilation are all of high importance. We continue to make progress.

In no Uncertain Terms...

By Therapeutic Practitioner and Mindset Coach

VIDYA BELLUR FROM VIVID OUTCOMES

Ordinarily, this time of year can be potentially exciting and joyous in the lead up to the festive period and New Year but it can also be filled with much anxiety, stress, tension and for some, loneliness and sadness.

The turn of the season, with shorter days, less sunlight and the challenges of the impending festive season arrangements can really impact on mental health. This seasonal 'norm' has been exacerbated with the pressures surrounding the pandemic.

I think it's fair to say that many of us are experiencing loss on different levels; be it loss of loved ones or people we may know, our routines; work, school, college, university, perhaps the loss of our financial health and security, and the loss of connectivity with others in a very human and spontaneous way. Ultimately, we are all experiencing a loss of certainty over people and things that we would normally take as a 'given'.

A big part of my job is about empowering people to help themselves, to manage that delicate balance between certainty and uncertainty. So I thought I would share with you some useful steps worth considering in order to create calm, reduce stress, tension and anxiety in the lead up to the festive period and beyond!:

- 1. Sometimes we may overthink or ruminate on a situation and as a result feel 'paralysed' with inaction. Other times we busy ourselves with so many things on that proverbial 'to do' list we may go into overwhelm. Whichever camp you're in, it's important to press 'pause' on those 'unhelpful' modes and step back, however daunting that may seem at the time.
- 2. Create a sense of calm and stillness with some breathing exercises, commit to them regularly. "How can I possibly do that when I'm feeling this way?" you might protest! Like anything that we are not used to doing we need to train our brain that there is a way to find stillness even in amongst chaos and unease.
- 3. Acknowledge the situation you find yourself in. You are where you are. Take time to recognise that there are some things you have control over and others you don't.
- 4. As a visual exercise, on a piece of paper, draw a circle. Jot down the things that are within your control, inside of it, and all the things outside of your control-yes, you guessed it, outside of it.

5. Things may not be as you want them 'now' but is there a way to look at this present situation with less judgement? Is there a positive spin that you can put on things that invites a curiosity?

For example, instead of saying: "Christmas this year is going to rubbish."

Replace it with something like, "Christmas 2020 isn't going to be like it normally is, I won't be seeing my wider family. I'll miss them, but I can enjoy a different type of Christmas for this one year. I wonder what it will be like?"

6. With that invitation for a more curious outlook, what would you like that future to look like? Create a vision.

7. Make a plan of small steps that you might take to make that vision a reality with the time and resources that you have in your control, refer to that circle you drew (4).

8. Implement your plan. Your plan is your sense of certainty. Even if you don't stick to it entirely and have to make adjustments, it's your own roadmap. Enjoy the journey!

If you found that useful and feel I could add value to you or someone you know, please get in touch.

I have helped hundreds of people; children, adolescents and adults to manage change, work through and overcome stress, tension, anxiety, depression, issues around self-esteem, unwanted habits, fear and phobias.

I have a range of packages and therapeutic bundles to suit. An initial consultation which

I recommend to all who get in touch with me, provides the opportunity to

- (i) get to know one another
- (ii) talk through the presenting issue(s)
- (iii) See if we are a good 'fit' for one another
- (iv) discuss therapeutic solutions and how we might work together

Presentation of YLLBB & Special code: YLLBB4SPECIAL will entitle you to a 10% discount on your first initial consultation with me.

I run my therapeutic practice with a view to mobilising people. I don't want people feeling 'stuck' in 'therapy' indefinitely anymore than I don't want to see people 'stuck' in life – my aim is always to empower people to make significant shifts in their relationship to their thinking, to change their behaviour to positively affect their outcomes.

Reigate based Claire Paphitis (aka The Ayurveda Coach) is the author of 'Balance Your Agni – An Essential Guide to Ayurveda' her first book for Ebury Press. The book addresses the connection between gut health and mental health and how balancing digestion and boosting immunity (known as Ojas) will help you sleep better, reduce stress and anxiety, have more energy, soothe skin conditions, maintain a healthy weight, balance your hormones and even improve the way you understand yourself and your relationships with family and friends.

Claire shows you how to take a 5,000 year-old medicinal system (and sister science to yoga) and use it to achieve that very modern goal: mind/body balance.

Available now from Amazon, Waterstones and all good bookstores.

ISLAND HOUSE

As you may have already seen, there is a new restaurant on Reigate High Street, Island House. Set up by husband and wife team Jonnie and SJ, Island House is their new concept having previously founded Rarebreed Dining with sites in Surrey and Berkshire, including The Plough Inn Cobham.

With two children in tow, they set about refurbishing the Grade II listed building and gardens and got the project off the ground during the lockdown period. With help from local tradesmen and a fantastic team, they were able to get the doors open in August.

Their focus is on creating globally inspired dishes and drinks using the best local produce, delivering outstanding hospitality and having fun. The menu is a selection of things the team love from Pacific influenced poke bowls to native lobster and soft shell crab curry and tacos with meat smoked in their own smoker. They pour their heart and soul into everything they do with most ingredients created in house, even down to baking their own flatbread and fermenting their own kombucha, you can see it's a labour of love.

There is a carefully curated drinks list and an interior where every single thing has been carefully sourced by SJ and Jonnie and is all part of the story. With a passion for the theatrical, their magical offerings such as the Smoking Hickory Daquiri and sharing Halibut dish are a lively display at the table. They have even created their own Island House Gin and Rum, both with their unique flavour profiles to fit perfectly with their bold style and signature dishes.

Everyone is thinking much more carefully about what they eat, for Island House this is a way of life. Seventy percent of their dishes are gluten free and over a third are either vegetarian or vegan.

Its clear SJ and Jonnie are very proud of their team. The Head Chef, James, was previously Head Chef at Soho House Group and has spent time cooking for the stars at Pinewood Studios where nutrition and dietary requirements were a heavy focus. India, the General Manager, previously managed local favourite Salt Pig in Dorking and is also a qualified Sommelier, her knowledge for wines is unbeatable and will always have an off the beaten track suggestion if you want to try something new.

Open all day every day, from breakfast to after dinner drinks and everything in between. So if you fancy a family meal, a cocktail in the lounge, a date night or a quick coffee, they're waiting for you.

Ruth's Little Kitchen was born and raised from my love of baking, cooking and bringing people together to learn skills to last a life time. COVID-SAFE READING GROUPS

We run a weekly reading group for pupils in secondary school that follows the Carnegie award. Each week, students will discuss books and get creative with their ideas about different texts. When the Carnegie shortlist is announced, we follow the shortlist and discuss a range of new books to pick our own winner.

INDIVIDUALISED ONLINE LEARNING

By providing a personalised approach to learning, we are able to build on the student's knowledge, understanding and confidence. With online English tuition, many of our students go on to achieve two grades higher than their original predictions. Our experience and expertise allows us to break down areas of difficulty to enable students to improve quickly.

RACHEL THORNHILL

CORPORATE & BRAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Why use stock images when you can use bespoke images to build trust with your potential customers from their very first contact with you?

You and your team are your Company's best assets, so with your ideal client in mind, we create a series of images that tell your story and help you connect with your target audience. Together we create images that help build positive relationships across all of your marketing collateral; your website, social media and print materials, strengthening your brand and helping your company to stand out in a crowd.

My name is Rachel Thornhill and I'm a Professional Portrait Photographer. I specialise in capturing beautiful portraits of people, which my Business Clients have gone on to use for their websites, social media and on business specific platforms such a Linked In.

To give you an idea of what we can achieve together, here is what a few of my Clients have to say...

"What an enjoyable afternoon... professional yet fun with plenty of genuine smiles! Rachel captured what we were aiming for perfectly"

Lisa & Alison

Renewed Hope is a local charity for the homeless, isolated and vulnerable in East Surrey. Since 2013 we've offered practical solutions and emotional support through our year-round daily Drop-In, Real Meal every Sunday, and the Winter Night Shelter between December and March. Alongside the provision of meals, foodbank vouchers and clothing, we provide direct support to our clients responding to their specific needs regardless of how complex their situation. We assist in finding housing and employment, and we work closely with statutory organisations and partnership agencies to improve the quality of life for our guests. In March 2020 we set up a foodbank delivery service, working with our local council. This enables us to provide for our existing beneficiaries and the wider community. This is all made possible with the help of our dedicated and willing volunteers.

Visit Us At The Yard!

The Yard was established in July 2017, to offer a showcase for local musicians at the weekend. It has continued to do this ever since providing many people their first ever platform for live performance. Collaborations have been formed, friendships & relationships made and a community established.

Over the 3 years The Yard has also offered a Book Club, Vinyl Night, Choir Practice, Market Stalls, Quizzes, Drama performances and regular Art Exhibitions, including the work of local disabled artists. It also offers an affordable meeting place for grass roots groups and has also hosted the very popular Reigate Repair Cafe, which puts skilled volunteers together to repair household items for local residents, whilst passing on their knowledge, and reducing landfill.

During the lockdown, The Yard provided a headquarters and focus for local volunteer efforts. Whilst shops and libraries were still closed The Yard offered a Book Swap service. This has since been absorbed into the fabric of the building, and the history of its being, with book shelves squeezed into every nook and cranny!

Live Music, the lifeblood of The Yard resumed in August on weekend evenings, with a new model of advance ticket entry only, for a smaller audience, as a Covid-Secure Venue. As cafes and restaurants have struggled to offer enough seating post-Covid, The Yard now offers socially distanced outside seating with screened seating booths inside and rebranded itself as 'Seatery', where you can bring coffee or takeout, a bottle of wine or a picnic, your laptop, a book or a friend and enjoy the vibe for just £1ppph.

Santa Stork is Stripey Stork's annual Christmas giving campaign, where the community comes together to ensure gifts are given and memories are made for local families in need. These gifts are new, specifically chosen for each child and in some cases will be the only present they'll receive this Christmas. This year many more families have been thrown into crisis and we are scaling-up to respond to 2,500 children and 1,250 parents/carers gift requests. But we need your help!
